ALL ABOARD!

The Roots of Soul Food

Bronx Borough President Ruben Diaz Jr.

Invites you to come aboard the Bronx Trolley, as we celebrate the Roots of Soul Food.

Saturday, October 13, 2012

All aboard for the annual urban farm tour series in September, a narrated group tour of some of the borough's most amazing working farms and community gardens.

Explore the roots of African American cuisine on this exciting tour of the Bronx's bountiful community gardens. Learn about farming techniques compiled from the rural South and passed along to local farmers as you help harvest collard greens and other soul food staples.

Gardeners! Please bring your extra saved or packaged seeds to swap with Bronx community gardeners. The Taqwa Community Farm will feature tips and information on seed saving.

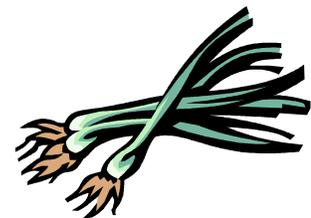

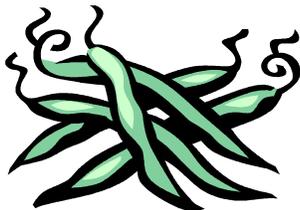

The official Bronx trolley will be used as form of transportation. Tours will depart and return to 810 Seventh Avenue, corner of 52nd Street, Manhattan.

Tickets are $20; RSVP required.

All proceeds go toward the support and programming of Bronx community gardens.

DEPARTURE: 10:00 AM at 810 Seventh Avenue, corner of 52nd Street, Manhatt
(Please arrive between 9:30 and 10:00 a.m.)

The event is co-hosted by the Bronx Food & Sustainability Coalition, the Bronx Tourism Council, and Bronx Green-Up/The New York Botanical Garden.
