BRONX COMMUNITY BOARD APPLICATION OVERVIEW (2022–2026)

Since 2022, the Bronx Borough President's Office (BxBPO) has received over two thousand applications from residents seeking to serve on their local Community Board, with the majority being first time applicants. Each year, the BxBPO updates the Community Board Application to improve the selection process and collect more accurate demographic information. This report provides data and information from 2025.

The most recent application for year 2026 added questions on housing and transportation to better understand how applicants live and travel within their districts.

WHY IS THIS IMPORTANT?

Including questions on housing and transportation and considering other demographic information in the Community Board application helps us to understand how applicants experience their neighborhoods and ensure that issues across the spectrum of resident concerns can be elevated and considered by our board members. Housing status, whether someone rents, owns, lives in public housing or temporary housing, can help shape perspectives around quality of life, affordability, development, and maintenance. Transportation patterns can tell us how residents move through their districts as they live, work and play. Having members who travel the City differently highlights issues related to transit access, infrastructure, parking and street safety for everyone using sidewalks, bike lanes, and roadways. While the City's Community Boards are advisory bodies, taking a data driven approach ensures that member perspectives represent the diverse realities of Bronx residents at each of our 12 community boards.

2025 APPLICATION CYCLE

In 2025, nearly five hundred individuals applied to serve on a Bronx Community Board. The BxBPO paired the application process with a strong borough-wide outreach campaign, including an extended deadline through mid-March to increase overall participation.

The Borough President's office works diligently to make the application available and accessible. Former applicants and those interested in serving received the link via direct correspondence. The application was posted digitally on the Borough President's website and across her social media platforms. The Community Board Unit in partnership with the Community Affairs team distributed flyers to all Community Boards, nonprofit organizations, health centers, libraries, hospitals, schools, BIDs, and other key Bronx institutions.

The application was also distributed in the BxBPO's newsletter and the BxBPO's email distribution list, which includes but is not limited to: Borough residents, NYCHA leaders, veteran groups, immigrant organizations, and religious organizations. Additionally, the Borough President makes a public announcement on News 12's monthly "Ask the Borough President" segment and utilizes other local newspapers and press outlets to spread the word. Information on how to apply was also publicized at community board monthly meetings as well as Borough Board and Borough Service Cabinet Meetings. Elected officials and their representatives also shared the flyer and other pertinent information on applying to Bronx Community Boards. Word of mouth continues to be an important and effective measure of outreach. The BxBPO also works with the NYC Office of Technology & Innovation on getting the flyer posted on Link NYC Kiosks around the borough. The Community Board Team held virtual information sessions on community boards and the application process.

In 2025, the Borough President continued to prioritize outreach at local high schools and colleges. The BxBPO attended several high schools, made presentations, and engaged with interested students. Staff visited NYPL locations throughout the borough to hand out flyers and speak directly with young residents. Staff directly engaged with the BxBPO's Youth Council, which served as credible messengers to their schools and networks. Staff worked with the Bronx Youth Council on mock meetings, the creation of their bylaws, and the formation of their executive committees.

When the annual community board application becomes available, the Bronx Borough President's Office (BxBPO) community board team contacts board members whose terms are expiring to let them know that it's time to reapply. In coordination with each community board office, reminders are sent and discussions are held on whether or not an existing member intends to reapply. The application is also widely distributed throughout the community to encourage new applicants to apply for seats on the Bronx's 12 community boards. Once an application is received, a member of the BxBPO team reaches out to schedule an interview. All applicants are interviewed.

City Council Members are provided with links to the application database for their respective boards. The BxBPO team meets with Council Members and/or staff to review the appointment process. The BxBPO team consults with board chairs and district managers regarding those board members who are seeking reappointment. The BxBPO team also reviews reapplicants full board and committee attendance records. New applications are also discussed with the Community Board Chair and District Managers. Once Council Members provide their appointment recommendations, the Borough President reviews current demographic data for each board's membership to ensure broad representation. The Borough President also reviews a map that shows where current residents live and where new applicants live to ensure each area of the board is represented.

The Borough President made appointments based on the qualifications, experience, profession and community involvement of the applicants while taking into account current demographics to ensure diversity on the board. These self-identifiable demographics include race, age, gender, sexual orientation, veteran status, disability, union membership, housing tenure, neighborhood residence, and professional background.

Each community board should represent the full richness of the community, so it is critical to ensure that all residents see themselves represented on the boards. For members seeking reappointment, the Borough President strongly considered attendance and performance over the past term.

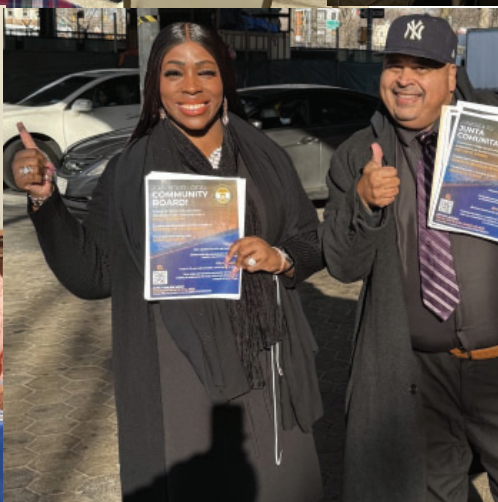

Borough President Vanessa L. Gibson with community board staff.

The Borough President appointed one hundred and seventy-four new Community Board Members. This is due to two factors, for instance, the number of applications varied widely from board to board. It is important that the number of vacancies is constantly changing because membership is dynamic due to resignations and removals.

"Our community board members play a crucial role in our democracy by advocating on behalf of their neighbors and by being the voice of their communities."

DEMOGRAPHIC REVIEW

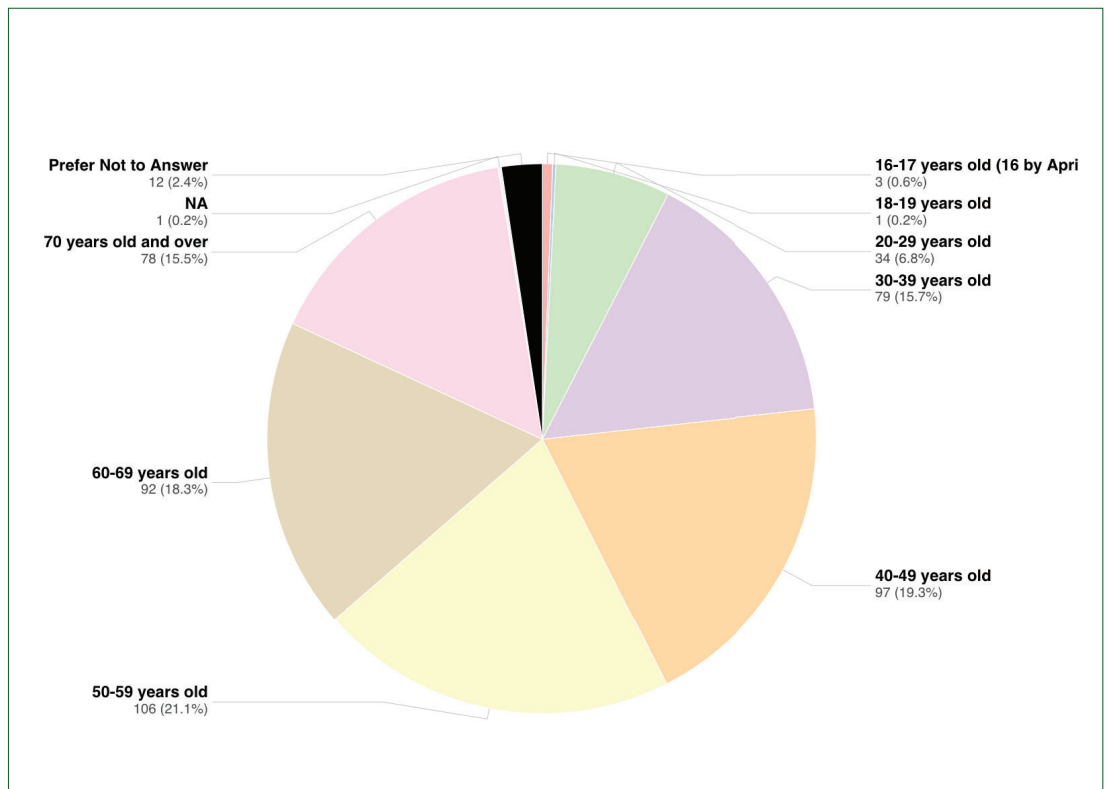

This demographic review is based on data provided by new applicants and reapplicants to the Bronx's twelve Community Boards for the 2025 application year, offering a detailed look at who is seeking to participate in local civic leadership and how the Borough President's Office evaluates representation across demographic data.

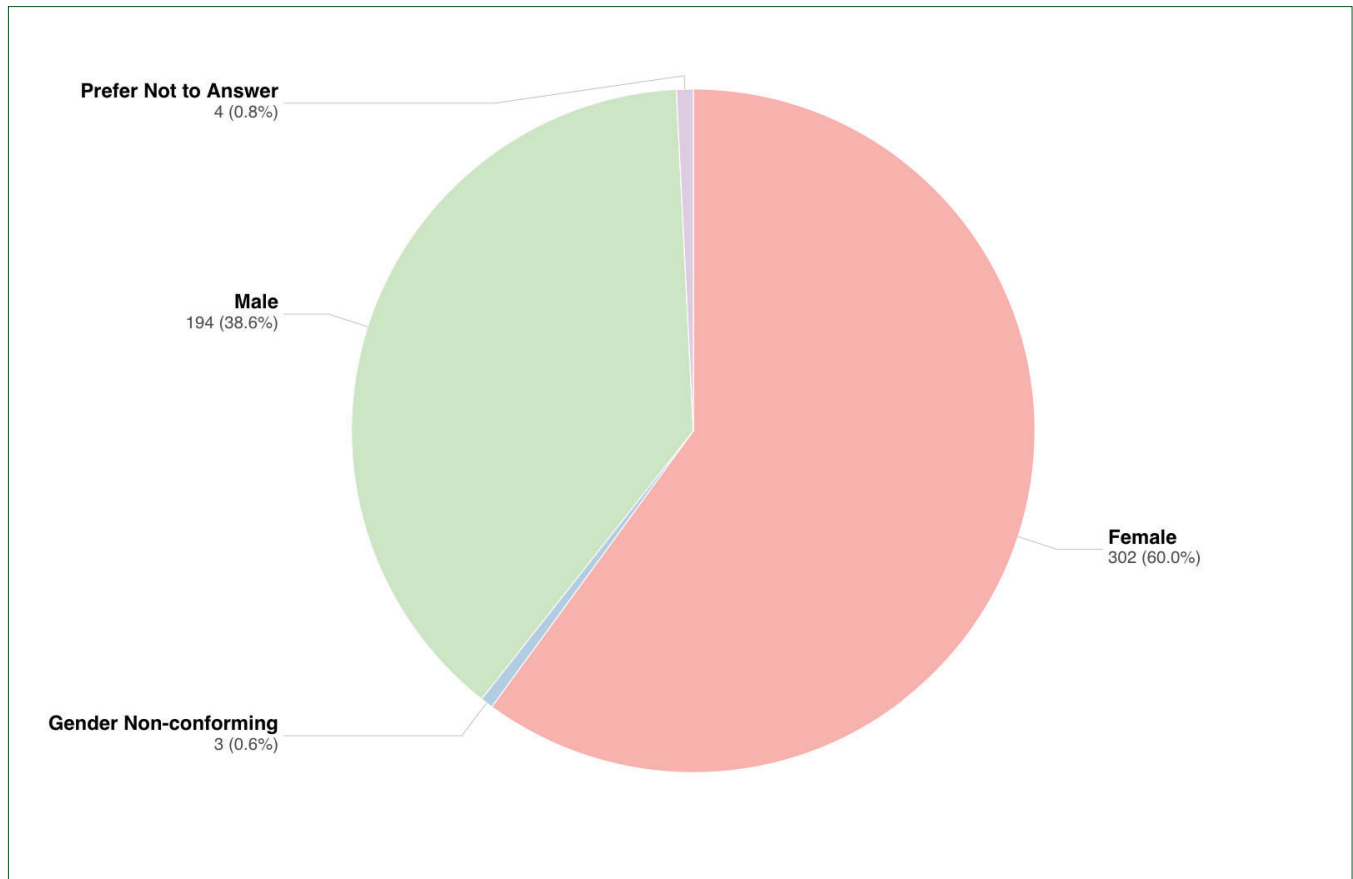

A representative community board must reflect the full diversity of the neighborhoods it serves. Understanding how we outreach, who applies and who is appointed is essential to achieving that goal. The Bronx Borough President's Office uses demographic data, including age, housing, transportation, gender identity, race and ethnicity, professional background, disability status, veteran status, and educational attainment, to ensure that each community board reflects the lived experiences, perspectives, and priorities of Bronx residents. These measures help identify gaps in representation, highlight progress, and guide outreach strategies so that all sectors of community are at the table when boards consider how services are allocated and delivered. By examining these demographic indicators, the BxBPO strengthens its commitment to building boards that are inclusive, equitable, and truly representative of the Bronx.

AGE

The Borough President continues to prioritize youth engagement and the appointment of younger residents to community boards. In 2025, nearly one quarter of all appointees were between the ages of 16 and 39, and an additional twenty percent were between 40 and 49. According to the 2024 American Community Survey, the median age of Bronx residents is 36.7, underscoring the importance of ensuring younger voices are represented in local decision-making. The BxBPO will continue expanding outreach to younger residents and encouraging them to apply. Community Boards 1 and 5 currently have the highest percentages of younger members.

GENDER IDENTITY

Bronx Community Boards are composed of more than 60 percent women, compared to a boroughwide population that is 52.8 percent female and 47.2 percent male. In 2025, 170 applicants identified as male and 256 as female, while nine applicants chose not to identify or identified as gender non-conforming. Male-identifying residents remain underrepresented on boards, reflecting the lower number of male applicants. Thirty-six members—approximately seven percent—identify as LGBTQIA+, and eleven of the twelve boards include LGBTQIA+ representation. Community Board 9 had no members who chose to identify as LGBTQIA+.

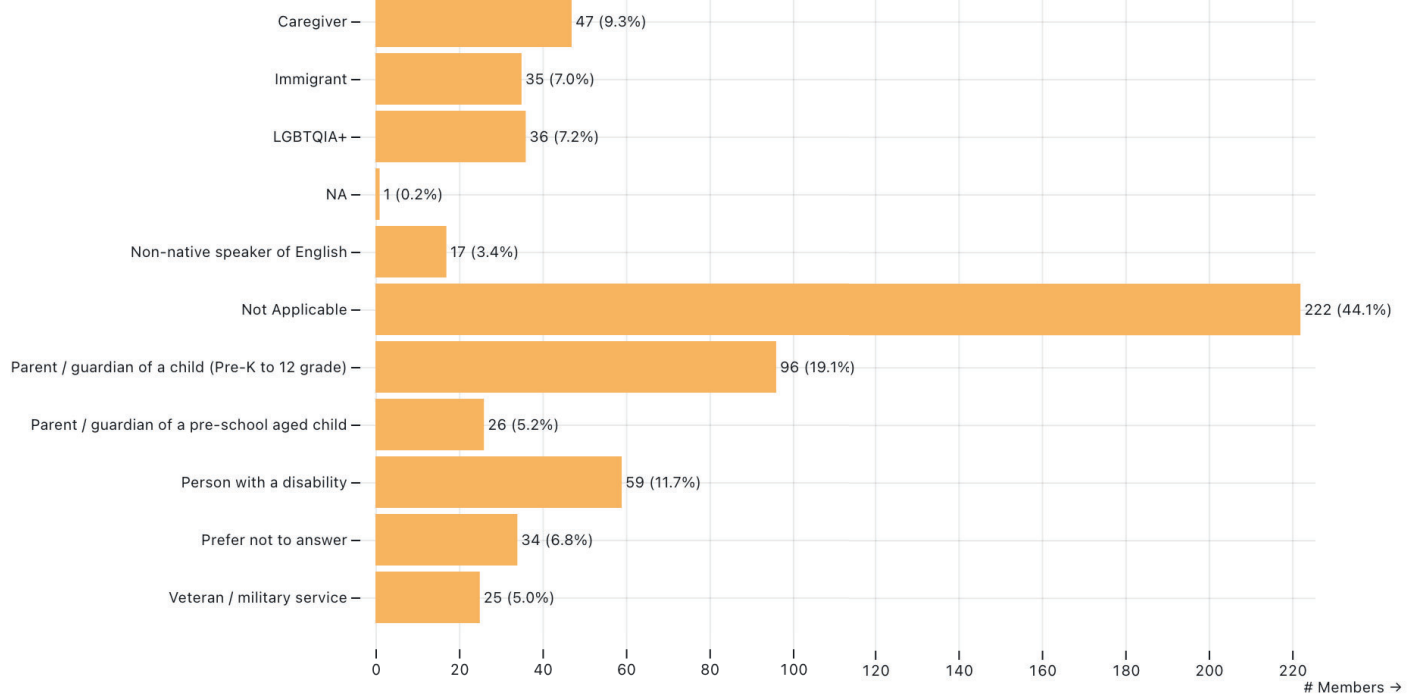

EDUCATION

Community Board members tend to have higher levels of educational attainment than the general Bronx population. While 22.7 percent of Bronx residents hold a bachelor's degree or higher, 62.3 percent of appointed board members have reached that level of education. This reflects both the applicant pool and the professional backgrounds of those who seek to serve, while also highlighting opportunities to broaden outreach to residents with diverse educational experiences.

RACE & ETHNICITY

The Bronx is a mosaic of cultures, languages, and histories—a borough shaped by migration, creativity, and resilience. In 2025, nearly half of Community Board members (251) identified as African American or Black, and one third identified as Latino/a or Hispanic. Additionally, 12.9 percent identified as Caribbean and 12.7 percent as white. These proportions closely mirror the 2024 Community Board demographic profile. According to 2024 ACS data, 32.9 percent of Bronx residents identify as Black or African American, over 55 percent identify as Hispanic or Latino, and 8 percent identify as white. Additional members identified as Native American, South Asian, Southwest Asian, East Asian, African, and European. The BxBPO remains committed to ensuring each board reflects the cultural richness of the borough.

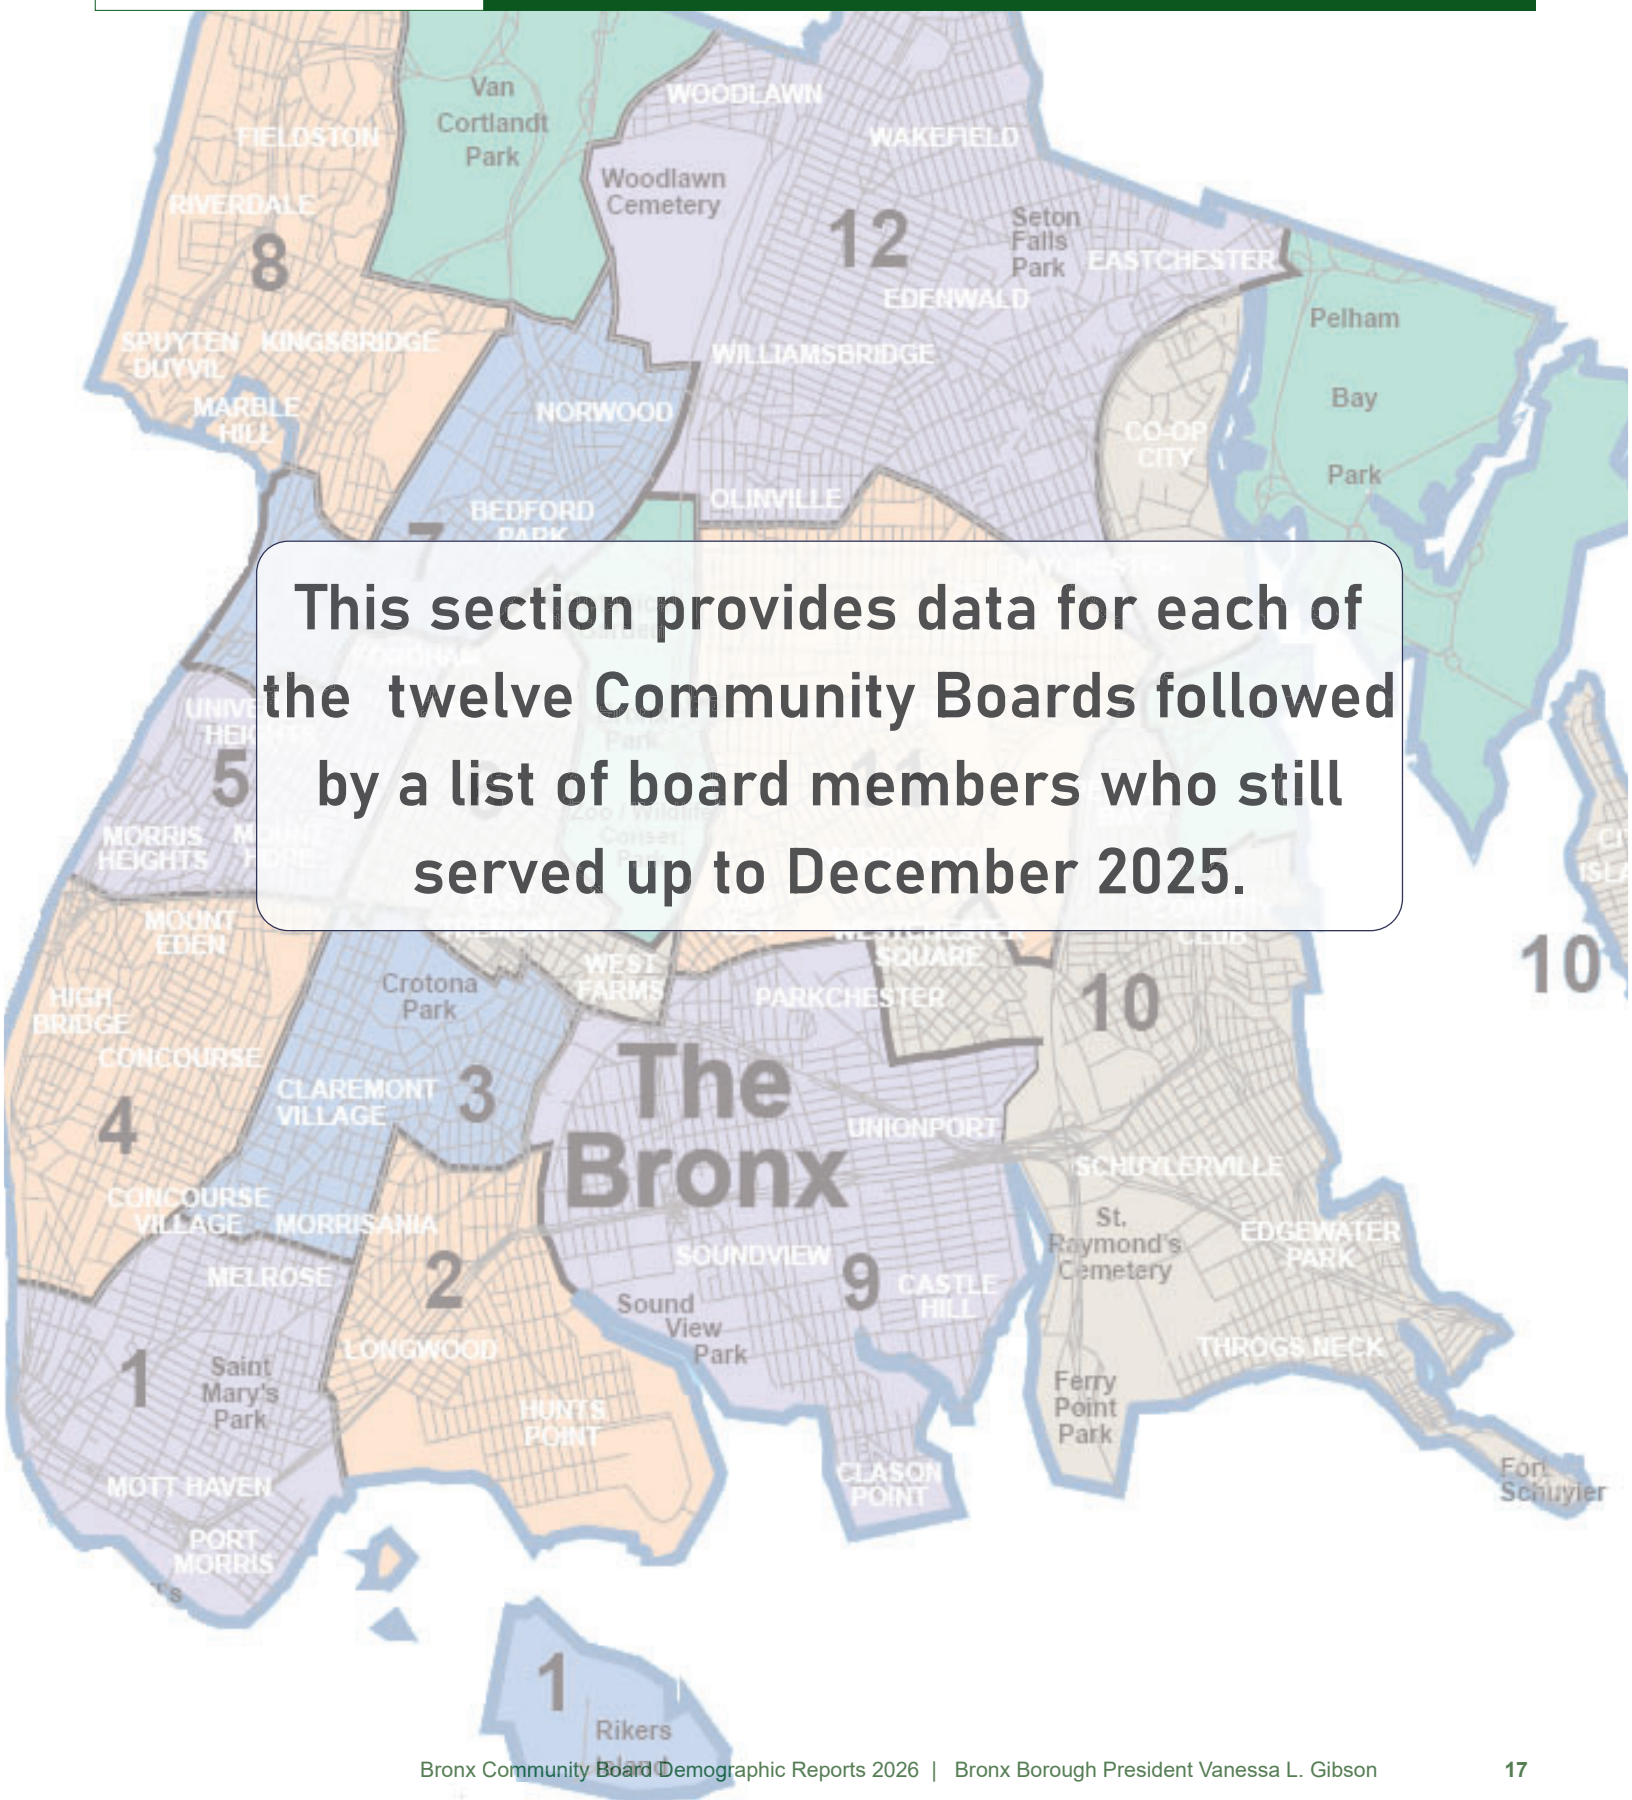

FURTHER DEMOGRAPHIC DATA

Bronx Community Boards benefit from the contributions of educators, essential workers, healthcare professionals, business leaders, parents, seniors, veterans, youth, and many others who help make the Bronx a vibrant place to live, work, and raise a family. More than half of members chose not to share additional background information, but among those who did, 25 percent identified as parents of school-aged children—an important perspective in discussions about education, youth services, and neighborhood planning. Fifty-nine members identify as having a disability, and twenty-five are veterans. The BxBPO partners with Bronx organizations, working groups, and task forces to expand outreach to veterans, people with disabilities, immigrant communities, parents, business owners, and others. These varied life experiences strengthen Community Boards and deepen their ability to address local challenges.
